

CALL FOR PRESENTERS APPLICATION FORM

Due November 15, 2018

The Community Resilience Initiative is pleased to present the 2019 Beyond Paper Tigers Fourth Annual Conference at the Red Lion Hotel and Conference Center in Pasco, WA. We invite professionals from various fields and organizations throughout the country to submit a presenter application on the topics related to healthy, resilient development in the face of chronic, toxic stress in urban and rural settings, inclusive of diversity and equity for particularly vulnerable populations. Topics may include gender and race equity, learning disabilities, historical trauma, juvenile or adult incarcerated populations, and immigration (as examples).

CRI is committed to featuring experienced and well informed presenters in every track offered. Our desire is for all conference participants to leave this event empowered with the necessary tools and resources to foster resilience in their families, workplaces, and communities.

PLEASE NOTE: Presentation of sessions is on a completely voluntary basis. Presenters will not receive compensation of any kind and are responsible for all costs related to their presentations, including (but not limited to) cost of travel, lodging, food, and presentation materials.
